DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The following action is in response to the applicant arguments and amendments filed 1/9/06.

The examiner has review the arguments, but remains unconvinced that the prior art fails to teach modified acetylenic alcohols or diols.

For example the applicant argues that McDermott fails to teach modified acetylenic alcohols. The applicant does admit that McDermott teaches the Surfynol and Dynol surfactants. The applicant further admits that these surfactants are formed via the reaction of acetylenic compounds with ethylene oxide.

The examiner contends that both the Surfynol and Dynol do in fact meet the instant limitations. Surfynol surfactants are indeed created using acetylenic alcohols as the starting material. These alcohols are then reacted with ethylene oxide to form an ether of the alcohol. Thus these acetylenic compounds are thus functionalized using ethylene oxide to form an ether functionality on the alcohol.

Thus the applicant is clearly mistaken. These surfactants and in turn the prior art clearly read on the applicant's functionalized acetylenic alcohols. An example of the modified diol can be seen below. Note that the ethoxy groups clearly form ether bonds with the base structure.

Conclusion

1. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 1751
